

— PHASE 2 · MODULE 1 · CLASS 2

Your first hello online.

Your profile picture is the first thing a client sees. Clear, warm and unmistakably you beats busy and over-designed.

WHY IT MATTERS

One small square does the first impression.

Before anyone reads your bio or opens your cover, they see this. It is the fastest way to look clear and professional.

Say what you do

Look like a professional

Skip the noise

Your picture, name and promise appear in the same row. Keep all three on the same brand palette and the profile reads as one thing.

Same colors as your cover

— THE WHOLE BUILD, IN SIX MOVES

Blank canvas to branded square.

— STEP 4 · CUT IT OUT

Remove the background. Keep the person.

A clean cut-out looks polished, and it lets your brand color do the work instead of a busy room behind you.

NO CANVA PRO?

Use a free background remover such as remove.bg, then upload the transparent image straight into Canva.

Same photo, same face. Only the noise is gone — which is exactly what lets a circle frame and one brand color look intentional.

— STEP 5 · MAKE IT YOURS

Frame it. Then let the brand color sit behind it.

MINIMAL PATTERN

Drag the frame onto the canvas, then insert your image into it. One circle, one color, one face — done.

STEP 6 · SHIP IT

Download it. Then shrink it.

- 1 Click Share, then Download
- 2 Choose PNG for high quality
- 3 Tick transparent background
- 4 Save, then upload everywhere

Transparent background is a Canva Pro option. Without it, one solid brand-color background works just as well.

Same design, three sizes

If your face still reads at 48 px, it will work on a phone, in a search result and in an inbox.

Test it on your own profile first

— QUICK TIPS

Four small things. One clear look.

You do not need to be a designer. You need a clear photo, a simple layout and one consistent set of brand colors.

Reuse the same photo everywhere

Save it as a reusable Canva template

Swap it in 30 seconds, not 30 minutes

Consistency is what turns one good picture into a brand people recognize.

GOOD LIGHTING

Face the light. Shadows hide your expression.

SIMPLE AND CLEAN

One frame, one background, no clutter.

BRAND COLORS

Reuse the palette you already saved.

FACE CENTERED

Centered and clearly visible, every time.

- One photo. One palette. One frame. Reuse it everywhere and it starts to look like a brand.
